From the President…

We are into March…marching in a parade!

As I write this, nine members of our guild successfully marched in the first quilter's parade at the Farmer's Market in Redding. It was a lovely morning, and the sun peeked out on us promptly at 10:00 am.

We treated the stairs leading to the breezeway between the City Council Chambers and City Hall as a model catwalk. The vendors and guests at the farmer's market paused for our display of quilts and coats. We passed out postcards for the May quilt show and "Be Our Guest" cards to those interested in attending a guild meeting.

Photos of the participants with our quilts, coats, and bags draped on the dry rock fountain are posted on social media. It took 18 minutes to make a lasting impression on those in the market that day. Personal touches are remembered.

Quilters, let's promote our May show in our individual spheres of influence. Create opportunities in the community to strut your quilting mojo. Casual gatherings with a few friends is all it takes to create happy attention. Carry the postcards with you and freely distribute them. They do no good in a box in Fay's car. At sporting events, shopping, dining, church, other social clubs—wherever you go—invite people to the May show. You are all blazing stars of this show! Tell the world about the spectacular art they will see at Anderson Fairgrounds on May 1-2!

I am excited to report that the 2026 executive board officers are adapting to their new positions. We are working great together and discussing fresh ideas for the upcoming year. The Ways and Means team are hitting home runs. We are still looking for an Education chair, or we should say "team." Rather than looking at these jobs as responsibilities for a single person, a collaboration makes work lite. Please talk about the opportunities between your quilting besties, even pre-guild members. Providing a place for significance is a drawing card.

Thank you, again, members of the Quilter's Sew-Ciety of Redding, for electing me as your President. It brings me immense joy to serve you all in this capacity. Thinking of you, my heart warms. I am grateful.

Enjoy life this month of March!

Lucinda

NOTICE:
This is the last newsletter for those who have not renewed membership by the March 3 general meeting!!

From the Vice President…

For our March meeting we welcome Arlene Arnold from Colusa. She has a lecture that's celebrating our country's 250th Birthday and will be sharing 25 quilts, one for each decade. With each quilt, she will provide a brief history of the time period and the individual who contributed to the decade.

We will be taking Arlene to dinner at the Cheesecake Restaurant at 4:30 pm, the evening of the meeting. Everyone is welcome to join us—just let me know if you're attending so I can add you to the reservation.

I'm getting excited for our quilt show and hope everyone is getting their quilts ready to exhibit. Just a reminder to bring your challenge quilt(s) which are due at the March meeting. I hope you will stop by the quilt show table to sign up to help out with the show. Please let Fay Leighton, quilt show chairperson, know if you have any questions.

Charlene

Committee Reports…

Community Quilts

The large quilt for the airport in March will be from Yvonne Carrico. As there was no sign up for the smaller one for the Ombudsman's Office, I will provide one.

We are in need of smaller quilts (no larger than 56"x66") for the Ombudsman office for May, June, July, August, October, November, and December.

Large quilts for the airport are still needed for October, November, and December.

Please contact me at 530-378-2782 or gossdorothy287@gmaill.com if you can provide one of the needed quilts.

Dollar Block (aka $2 Block)

At the February meeting the "My Valentine" blocks were collected. Lynn Smith was the winner of 22 completed blocks and three incomplete kits that were turned in. We'll see what she comes up with.

The new blocks, called "Square Burst," were all sold out. Whenever possible, we suggest you take a picture of the sample blocks for color placement as the black and white copy of the instructions can often be confusing.

Thanks to all who have participated, and we hope more will join in on the fun. See you in March.

Chris and Jennie

Fat Quarters

In February, there were 41 fat quarters submitted. Jenny Webb and Lucinda Williams were the lucky recipients!

For the March 3rd meeting, bring in your spring colors (pastels).

Marie

Library

Spring is just around the corner, and there's nothing like a fresh season to inspire new quilting ideas. Your guild library is getting ready to bloom, with several new books being added to our collection at the March meeting.

Whether you're planning a bright spring quilt, joining the block or row robin, looking for new techniques to try, or getting ready for upcoming challenges and the quilt show, these new additions are sure to offer plenty of creative inspiration.

Here's a preview of what will be available for checkout after the March meeting:

- Quilting Row by Row
- Moda, All in a Row Again
- Fun with Panels
- Fabric Cafe Panel Perfect 3-Yard Quilts
- Super Easy Quilting for Beginners
- Patchwork Jackets

Be sure to stop by the library table to take a look and say "Hi"! These new books always go fast, so you won't want to miss them.

Thank you, as always, for supporting the library by checking out books, returning them on time, purchasing tickets for the monthly book drawing, and sharing your wonderful recommendations for new books. Your enthusiasm keeps our collection fresh, useful, and fun for everyone.

Happy quilting,

Leah and Gayle

Opportunity Quilt

We'd like to give proper credit to the four quilters who volunteered their time and talents to create the 2026 Opportunity Quilt:

- Carolyn Partridge pieced the quilt
- Michelle Oberlander provided the quilting
- Linda Cottengim and Marjorie Lorensen hand sewed the binding

Thank you, quilters, for our beautiful 2026 Opportunity Quilt! Opportunity Quilt ticket income received at the February general meeting was $128.

Lynn and Janie

Philanthropic

Well, you did it again! We received ten finished twin quilts and five finished lap quilts at the February meeting. We also sent out some projects to be completed. Thank you for your assistance in spreading the warmth of quilts in our community.

In January, we delivered 30 twin quilts to Sleep in Heavenly Peace, the bed building charity we have aligned with. Last year they delivered 65 quality wooden beds in Shasta county and we provided a twin quilt for every bed they built. This is truly a wonderful charity—building, delivering, and setting up beds in homes for children who would otherwise sleep on the floor.

We had our annual sew-in at The Sewing Room on February 7. Many hands were available to help, and we got backs made for four full tubs of tops. We also cut batting and put together kits to hand out for quilting at our March meeting, so come see me then and pick one up to quilt.

Thanks again for all you do.

Amy

Ways & Means

Thank you to everyone for the enthusiastic support of the committee at last month's meeting! We received $225 in raffle tickets for the various baskets and a $15 private donation of the Sewing Room gift card.

Feel free to contribute any items (can be sewing/quilting related but don't have to be) for either the regular monthly raffle baskets or upcoming guild Quilt Show baskets. If you've got something that one of your "guild siblings" might enjoy winning, we'll take it!

Cherry, Jenny, and Kim

Workshops

We have two great upcoming workshops where you will have a chance to learn and practice two techniques in doing beautiful applique by two different great teachers!!

Our next workshop will be "Invisible Machine Applique" on Saturday, April 11, 9:30 am-3:30 pm at The Sewing Room. The teacher is Brenda Hudson, one of our own members! You can sign up at the general meeting and see the sample of the class at the Workshop table. Class fee is $45 for members and $55 for non-members. Sign up, pay the fee, and get the supply list.

The May workshop will be led by past member, Karen Ottoboni, teaching her specialty "Needle Turn Applique." It will be Saturday, May 9, 9:30 am-3:30 pm at the Blue Iris Quilt Shop in Palo Cedro. You can see the sample, sign up, pay the fee, and get the supply list at the March and April general meetings.

February Member Spotlight on Leah Grant

Leah started her first quilt when she was pregnant in 1985. Her son, now 40, never did get that quilt, but she is making steady progress! Despite her not (quite) finished initial foray into quilting, Leah has graduated into making quilts with many techniques, including foundation paper piecing, thread painting, and appliqué. Members may recall that her adorable challenge quilt depicting a jaunty turtle was the pick for the attendees' favorite (Viewer's Choice)!

Leah shared that first simple quilt—a study in brown and cream—as well as a large elaborate and exquisitely colorful New York Celebration quilt that she first started at a class taught by Karen Ottoboni a couple of years ago. She has come a long way!

Leah works full time providing benefits to our local school districts. She also has a YouTube channel called Leah's Simple Kitchen where she prepares homey dishes such as lasagnas and nourishing basics like chicken soup.

I plan to check that out for inspiration! Thank you, Leah for sharing your lovely work with us.

2026 Quilt Show

The Quilt Show planning committee met at the home of Lynn Smith and the following are some of the highlights of the chairs' reports:

- Debbi Facca (set up) and Lynn Prather (take down) are working together to secure help in loading, set up, and take down of quilts. Lynn's husband will be driving the truck. Cris Hartman said she would make some calls for them as she knows a group that will possibly be available to help.
- D'Anne Andrews reported there are 26 entries so far.
- Linda Molter will have admissions tables at both buildings.
- Lisa Ponce noted that the one-day drop off will be very busy and there is a concern about enough parking by The Sewing Room. We do not want to take up spaces for customer parking.
- Ashley Shorey (boutique) is working with Tammie Thomas (treasurer) to get a "Square" credit card processing app for her phone to enable us to accept cards for payment in the Boutique.
- Lynda Blaise has secured a food truck and 22 vendors.
- Lynn Smith has ordered the awards.
- Sue Vanderwerf has secured a new judge—Mona Wooden.
- Scarlett Rose has acquired a bed and many quilts for the bed turning presentation.
- Dorinda Goff has two veteran who will be honored and presented with "Quilts of Valor."
- The ladies doing baskets were not able to attend. As this is their first time to work in the show, they will be grateful for advice from anyone who has done Baskets in the past, especially tips on the best way to make them a big success.

I would appreciate suggestions from our guild members to make this the best quilt show yet!

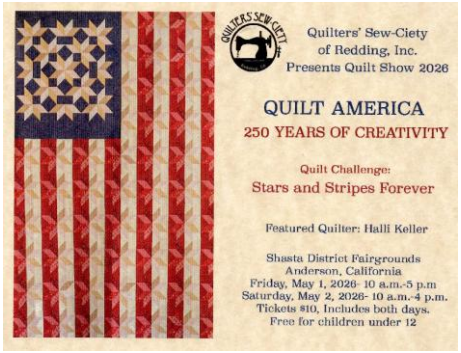
Quilt Registration

Are you scrambling to get your quilts ready to enter into the quilt show? Are you hesitating to send in your registrations until you make the last stitch on your binding or get your label sewn on?

Go ahead—fill in your entry form and mail (or hand it in) it along with a check and 3x5" photo to me at my email or address shown at the top of the form no later than March 27. You'll still have time to finish the last details of your quilt before drop off on April 27.

Forms can be downloaded from our website, quilterssewciety.org (select "Events" tab and "Quilt Show").



For those who do not have access via a computer, printed forms are available at the March meeting.

D'Anne Andrews

Boutique

If you want to sell items at the Boutique, please let me know. Sellers make 75% of their item ticket price and are asked to work a shift at the Boutique during the show.

We are also asking guild members to help contribute to the Boutique by making handmade items. Items that sold well at the last show included: table runners, embroidered tea towels, small quilts, place mats,and handmade dolls.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please don't hesitate to contact me. Here's to a fantastic Quilt Show!

Bed Turning

The time for my Bed Turning presentation has been set for 1:00 pm each day of the quilt show. The bed frame will be set up on Thursday at 3:00 pm and taken down after the show closes on Saturday at 4:00 pm.

I need one more volunteer to assist with the event held each day. Two members have volunteered with white gloves to hold up the quilts that are lying face down on the bed. As they hold up a quilt so the front shows to the seated audience, I will talk about the quilt. Then the quilt needs to be folded, handed to the third volunteer who will place it on a nearby table, so the next quilt can be held up.

After the presentation is over, the quilts will be placed back on the bed, face down, for the next day. Some quilts will be swapped out at that time so the bed turning on the next day will be slightly different.

If you would like to sign up, please let me know.

Quilt Challenge

The Challenge Quilts are due at the March 3rd guild meeting. There will not be any late quilts accepted. If you are not going to be at the meeting, please call Cris or Patti to make arrangements to get your quilt turned in ahead of the due date.

When you turn your quilt in, please place it on a 20x30" foam core board (can be purchased at the Dollar Store) and put both quilt and board inside an unscented plastic bag. Please ensure your custom label is sewn to the back and that your quilt has a 3" sleeve on it. Also make sure you have filled out the specific registration paperwork for the Challenge Quilts. If you need another copy, let us know and we can email you one.

If you want your Challenge Quilt judged, (1) fill out the regular quilt show registration paperwork to have it judged, pay the judging fee ($12), provide a photo, and send that to D'Anne Andrews. (2) You will still turn in your Challenge Quilt to Patti and Cris, and we will make sure it gets to judging, pick it up afterwards, and get it to the quilt show.

You can pick up your Challenge Quilt directly from Patti and Cris after the show in the area where the Challenge Quilts were exhibited. They will be given back separately from the other quilts in the show.

The quilts will be displayed anonymously during our April meeting and voted on by our members. The results will revealed at our quilt show. We've had 41 quilts signed up for the challenge and eagerly look forward to see how everyone has interpreted the theme! Thank you for participating.

Again, if you have ANY questions, please don't hesitate to call us.
